Board of Education Finds Some Are Not Complying With Contracts.

NORFOLK DISPUTE SETTLED

City Does Not Get Full Amount Claimed as Result of Annexation.

Suit will be instituted in the name of the State on the bonds of the school book publishers who refuse to live up to their contractual obligations. Such was the decision of the State Board of Education at its meeting held at the Capitol yesterday.

In addition, the board re-elected two of its own members, straightened out Norfolk county dispute over the division of school funds, and transacted

This often results in the express charges amounting to more than the profit on the ship-ment of books ordered, for which reawholesalers have sometimes re-d to fill such orders, the schools being thus deprived of textbooks.

Resolution Adopted, The board therefore adopted the fol-

Election of Officers.

The State Board of Education is composed of three ex-officio members, three members elected by the State Senate, and two members selected by the board from the division superintendents and associated with the body. The exofficio members are the Governor, the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Attorney-General. The members elected by the Senate are Dr. J. M. Page, of the University of Virginia; Colonel H. C. Ford, of the Virginia Military Institute, and Dr. J. L. Jarman, who was yesterday sworn in for his new term. Colonel Ford succeeds Colonel N. B. Tucker, of the Virginia Military Institute, whose term expired.

It is the belief of the secretary of the board that the adoption of this resolution, for which he is entirely responsible, will bring relief to many teachers, who, in the past, have periodically been forced to undergo the pangs of examinations. Stearnes felt convinced that the examinations were largely unnecessary, and came to the rescue of the teach-ers with his resolution.
